

First term Exam

The World's Most Unusual Celebration

Objective

Work in groups of 3–4 students to research an unusual celebration from around the world and present it in a recorded Zoom meeting. Your presentation must demonstrate the use of the grammar and vocabulary studied in Units 1 and 2.

Presentation Structure (10–12 minutes)

Part 1: Introduction (2 minutes)

Describe the celebration.

Include:

- Country
- Date
- Main activities
- Traditions
- Decorations

Grammar Requirement

Use be used to or get used to.

Example:

Local people are used to celebrating this event every year.

Tourists need to get used to the traditions.

Part 2: The Story Behind the Celebration (3 minutes)

Explain the history or origin of the celebration.

Grammar Requirement

Use:

- Past Perfect (affirmative)
- Past Perfect (negative)
- Past Simple

Examples:

The villagers had celebrated small gatherings before the festival became famous.

The event had not attracted tourists before social media promoted it.

The celebration started in the 1940s.

Part 3: What Could Have Happened? (2 minutes)

Discuss possible situations related to the celebration.

Grammar Requirement

Use Perfect Modals.

Examples:

The tradition could have started by accident.

The organizers should have prepared more security.

Visitors might have misunderstood the custom.

Use at least:

- should have
- could have
- might have

Alternative History (2 minutes)

Imagine different outcomes.

Grammar Requirement

Use Third Conditional.

Examples:

If the festival had not become popular, tourists would not have visited the city.

If the government had canceled the event, the tradition might have disappeared.

Part 5: Personal Opinions (2 minutes)

Discuss your preferences.

Grammar Requirement

Use:

- wish
- if only
- would rather

Examples:

I wish I could attend this celebration.

If only it were celebrated in my country.

I would rather participate in this festival than in a music concert.

Part 6: Festival Preparations (1 minute)

Explain how people prepare for the celebration.

Grammar Requirement

Use causative have/get.

Examples:

Participants have their costumes made by local artists.

The town gets the streets decorated before the event.

| Criterion                                                                                                                                  | 2 pts                                                                                                                                        | 1 pt                                                                                | 0 pts                                                            |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Grammar Accuracy ( Past Perfect, Wish/If Only, Would Rather, Third Conditional, Perfect Modals, Causatives, Be/Get Used To ) | All required grammar structures are used correctly and appropriately.                                                                        | Most required grammar structures are used; some errors do not affect understanding. | Required grammar structures are missing or contain major errors. |
| Task Completion &amp; Content ( Research and Presentation Requirements )                                                     | All required sections are included and fully developed (introduction, history, hypothetical situations, opinions, preparations, conclusion). | Most sections are included; one section is missing or lacks detail.                 | Several sections are missing or presentation is incomplete.      |
| Fluency &amp; Flow                                                                                                                  | Speaks smoothly with natural pauses and good pacing; ideas are connected clearly.                                                            | Some hesitation or pauses; message is generally clear.                              | Frequent hesitation or unnatural flow; difficult to follow.      |
| Pronunciation &amp; Clarity                                                                                                         | Pronunciation is clear and easy to understand throughout the presentation.                                                                   | Occasional pronunciation or clarity issues, but meaning is understandable.          | Pronunciation or clarity problems make understanding difficult.  |
| Creativity &amp; Engagement                                                                                                         | Presentation is creative, engaging, and shows strong effort through visuals, examples, and interaction.                                      | Some creative elements are included; presentation maintains moderate interest.      | Little or no creativity; presentation lacks engagement.          |